Editor's Note

Hey JUITians!

Back from the mid-semester break, leaving behind the haunting memories of mid-semester exams, everyone in the University is involved in some way or the other in the preparations of Le Fiestus'14, the annual Cultural Fest.

The campus seems bright and energetic, specially in the night when preparations are in full swing. Reverié promises you to cover it in its own unique way and give you guys a jolly time.

Feel free to contact us. Write to us at admin@juitreverie.net.

After all the romance of valentine's week, the morning of 15 Feb brought the sound of slaps and claps. Being the slap day and the opening morning of Murious 8.0, the day was ought to be full of fun and happening events. The much anticipated tech fest of Jaypee University of Information Technology kicked off with the declaration by Dr. Y. Medury and the gaming alley at Open Cafe. The extremely cold weather and even snowfall in the campus in the evening could not stop the sincere and honest efforts of the JYC Tech Club and the first day of Murious saw successful organisation of events like techno biz quiz, Robo race, Maths quiz and most importantly LAN gaming which was a pure success. Day-2 was a sunny one and saw the events of non-technical clubs like Synapse (Bio club), Literary club, Cultural club. Then came the most awaited event, "PAINTBALL", which saw the fight of the colours and was full of fun. Some very innovative events like mock placements and virtual bidding also took place. Virtual bidding witnessed a "maggi" being sold at Rs 12000! Then came the cultural night, "Synchronon-2014", which was sheer entertainment as always. UBC ( United Bhangra Club) emerged victorious in the dance competition. The night provided a perfect culmination to the 2 day extravaganza.

INIZIO '14

-Abhinav Aggarwal

“Keep close to nature's heart and break clear away to the green nature to wash your spirit clean”.

This message was given through the environment week organized by JYC Environment Club. INIZIO'14, the Environment week of JUIT started off on 10th February 2014, with “Enviro Hunt” as its first event with the theme “Go Green”. In this event, the students were divided into teams of two who competed in the five rounds of “Enviro Hunt”. The teams participated in different events to finally create the phrase “SAVE ENVIRONMENT”. First team to complete all these rounds first were declared winners.

The second day was observed as the “Water Conservation Day” of INIZIO '14 by the event “Water Doodle”. In this event, the teams of students created a doodle on “WATER. This exciting event came to close with two teams tied for both winner's and runner-up's position.

The third day was honoured as the “Food Conservation Day” of INIZIO '14. On this day, the members of Environment Club created awareness regarding importance of saving food among the JUITians. Also the food wastage of Annapurna mess was noticed during the entire environment week. A gradual decrease in food wastage was witnessed in the “Food Wastage Chart”.

On the fourth day, the awaited event was “INNOVA”, the best out of waste competition. In this event teams showed their creative skills with innovating new ideas with the waste material provided by the club. These teams create some magnificent craft but the best one won.

On the sixth day, INIZIO '14 in collaboration with Murios 8.0 conducted the event “BolBacchan”. In this event, the students gave presentations on some serious topics related to environment.

INIZIO '14 drew to a close on February 16th, with the play “Awaaz”. The members of environment club acted in the play to spread awareness among the people of JUIT about the commercial land in resourceful and green villages being turned into wastelands. They also depicted that through determination and hard work, the villagers can turn around tables and save their beloved lands.

Eventually, INIZIO '14 was a unique environment week celebrated for the first time in JUIT.

MOTO G-A REVIEW

-Sumeet Chahal

After a long period of unsuccessful attempts to regain its footing in the smart phone market, Motorola finally seems to have found a way in with its latest android budget device, the Moto G. If you are looking forward to buying a device with good specifications at a low price, then look no further. Priced between 12000 to 14000 Rupees, this is currently the best low budget device in the market.

LOOKS

The Moto G is a plastic but durable device with a curved design that feels good in the hand. It is not a very slim phone but that is hardly an issue for the average buyer. The 4.5 inch 720p screen is a delight because of its 720 X 1280 resolution and a pixel density of 326 ppi. This ensures sharper images and smoother text when compared with other devices in its price range. A cool feature about this phone is the replaceable back cover. You can choose from a variety of back covers with different colours.

HARDWARE

The Moto G is equipped with a Quad Core Snapdragon 400 processor and an Adreno 305 GPU which is relatively old but is still powerful enough to ensure a smooth experience with the device. The 1 GB RAM is sufficient for multitasking without any shutters or lag. The 5 megapixel camera is not too good though. It comes with a non expandable built in storage space of 8 GB and 16 GB.

SOFTWARE

Unlike market giants like Samsung and HTC, Motorola decided to use stock android on the Moto G. Thus, the phone runs considerably faster than the others because it is free of useless apps and thus, has plenty of free RAM available all the time. It was launched with android 4.3 onboard and is currently upgradeable to the latest version, namely Kit Kat 4.4.2.

DRAWBACKS

It feels totally wrong to point out some minor flaws in the Moto G considering its low price but amazing specs. But still, these might pose problems in the long run so I decided to include them. Firstly, the 8GB variant has about 5 GB usable storage spaces which will fill up in no time. So it is advisable to get the 16GB Variant. Another drawback is the poor quality camera which takes average quality pictures. Features like 4G and NFC are missing. The absence of these features is good in a way because this helped Motorola to keep the price low and no one uses 4G and NFC in India anyway.

CONCLUSION

The Moto G is one of the best devices in the market right now. If you are looking for a great phone that has a good value for money, this is the thing to buy. It is already selling by bucket loads in India so hurry up and make this phone yours before it runs out of stock....again.

JYC PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Fellow JUITians,

After the rigorous work by all the JYC clubs, we finally present Le Fiustus-2014. The first open festival of JUIT is all set to become the largest festival of the state with various artists coming from all genres. Bringing out the importance of being distinct and different, this year we profoundly acknowledge "the reverence for diversity".

So let's gear up to celebrate the most amazing time of the academic calendar and make this fest a grand success.

THE REVERENCE FOR DIVERSITY

It's very hard to say the phrase 'Indian Culture'. The singular 'culture' doesn't do India justice. One could maybe get away with 'Mexican culture' or 'French culture' and generalize them, but in India its 'cultures'. If you actually start to dive into the root of Indian culture, you'll start to realise that it has always been diversity that has driven us. And here at JUIT, it's no different. This year, at the grand Le Fiustus 2014, we celebrate our diversity - diversity of cultures, diversity of cuisines, diversity of dance forms, diversity of ethnic backgrounds and diversity of everything that surrounds us. Come, join us.
